Northern Virginia Housing Expo Exhibitor March 23, 2024 novahousingexpo.org

WELCOME

Our advocates are career professionals in the housing, public health and communications industries who volunteer time to our mission by providing guidance and liaison support to individuals, family members or caregivers who experience obstacles to equitable outcomes.

HANDOUTS

HOW WE HELP

Referred individuals are scheduled for a screening call, then a one-on-one or virtual meeting. Fill out an interest card.

Community outreach events and collaboration with partner agencies in health services and housing, in local, state, Federal and public service sectors. This allows us to serve a large population who may not be able to use digital and e-technology skills needed today.

HOW WE HELP

When solutions require high literacy in electronic searches, online portals for receiving assistance, and other e-technology obstacles, we work to open those doors for people.

Re: "NOVA Section, NCNW & Partners 2023 Health Fair"

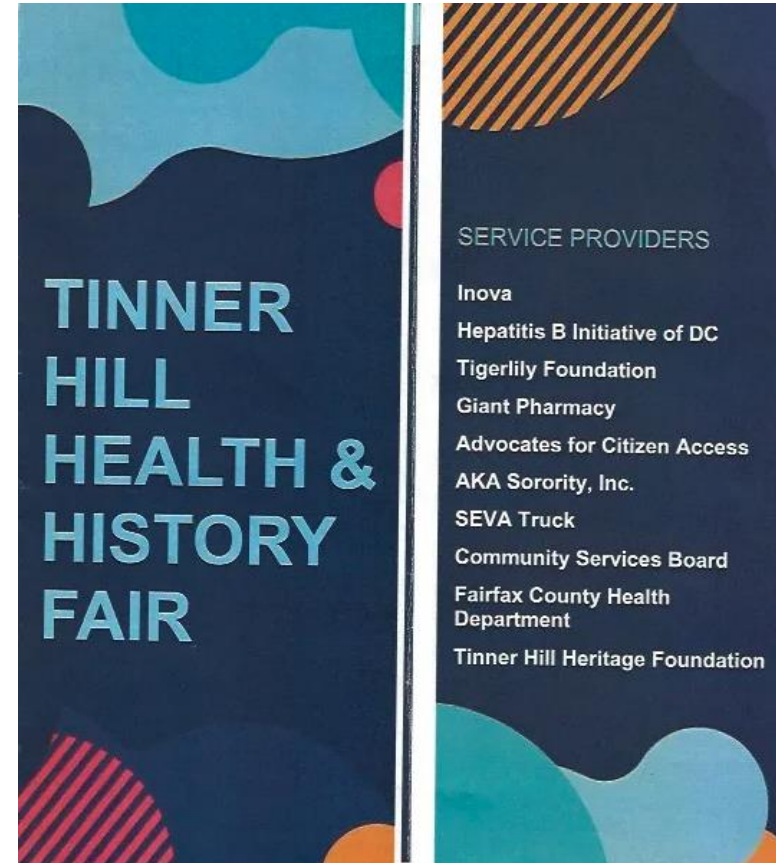

Dear Florence,

On behalf of the Northern Virginia (NOVA) Section, National Council of Negro Women, Inc. (NCNW), and our partners NOVA Chapter, National Coalition of 100 Black Women, Inc. (NOVA Chapter NCBW 100); NOVA Business and Professional Women's Club (NOVABPW Club), and NOVA Chapter, Delta Sigma Theta, Inc. (NOVA Chapter, DST), we thank you for your participation and support of our 2023 Health Fair community event.

The health fair was a great success, and we believe that our objectives of promoting health education, disease prevention, and healthy lifestyles in our community were achieved by the participation of your organization and other providers who shared health information and/or provided screenings for those attending. We have received very positive responses on the event. We truly appreciate your participation and thank you for your support and willingness to serve our community.

We look forward to working with you on future health fair events.

Best regards,
Gloria Crawford Gore
